December 2016

LifeSmarts — Learn it. Live it.

TECHNOLOGY

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
				1 The process of proving the identity of a computer or computer user, usually involving a username and password, is known as:	2 A pop-up ad says it has detected malware on our computer and asks you to click on the ad to purchase anti-spyware software. What should you do?	3 What type of phone service can be attacked by computer viruses, worms, or spam?
4 This system is designed to prevent unauthorized access to or from a private network. This is a:	5 How does your bandwidth affect how long it will take to download something from the Internet?	6 Turn on this feature in your web browser to request that websites stop tracking your information:	7 Unscrambling an encrypted computer message is called:	8 The extension "index.htm" usually describes which page on a website?	9 In terms of Internet access, many airports, hotels, and coffee shops have hotspots. What type of Internet access do hotspots provide?	10 Search engines use this functionality to ensure that content shown is appropriate for many different audiences and age groups:
11 How can you find out what a company is doing with your personal information online?	12 Who owns the right to information uploaded to Facebook?	13 Which federal agency regulates podcasts?	14 Within 60 minutes either way, smartphone customers spend an average of how many minutes per week using social networking apps on their device?	15 If you are posting short messages, usually less than 140 characters, you are doing what type of blogging?	16 In this type of blog postings are primarily in video form:	17 You are 23 times more likely to crash if you are doing this while driving:
18 A secure web program that allows employees to read their email securely from an off-site location via a web browser is known as:	19 You see the extension ".wav" attached to a computer file. What type of file is it?	20 You are viewing a Web page with four graphics on it. How many hits will the server count?	21 The combination of sound, animation, graphics, video, and other elements into a single program or system is called:	22 You do not need to purchase an "HDTV antenna" to receive HDTV signals; however, your antenna must be able to receive what two types of TV signals?	23 What is the name of the device that converts analog video and audio signals into a digital format for transmission and can convert the signals back into analog?	24 What method of animation creates the in-between frames after you create the start and end points of the animation?
25 The file or text automatically attached at the bottom of an email to provide information about the sender is called what?	26 This type of computing relies on sharing computing resources. What is it called?	27 When you "digitize" something, you are converting it to digital from what format?	28 This data backup method removes files from a primary storage media to an offline media when the files are no longer required by users:	29 A program designed to be executed from within another application, and not directly from the operating system, is called:	30 The main circuit board of a microcomputer is called a:	31 These files are located on your hard drive and they store Web site data for every Web page or URL address that you visit: