

SUN	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT
1 When a member of Congress proposes a change to the language or provisions of a bill, what are they offering?	2 A hotel charges guests a fixed amount for each night they stay. What type of pricing is this?	3 After new district maps are drawn, one political party gains an advantage due to how the boundaries were set. What is this practice called?	4 What is the legal time limit for filing a lawsuit called?	5 When a business publicly posts the total price for a service, including taxes and mandatory fees, what type of pricing is this?	6 A contract has no legal effect because it was never valid to begin with. What is this called?	7 What federal law gives the public the right to request records and information from federal government agencies?
8 A seller fails to provide all important details before a buyer signs an agreement. What was lacking?	9 A tax is taken from a person's estate after they die, before the money or property is given to their heirs. What type of tax is this?	10 A hotel bill includes small extra fees for parking and snacks taken from the room. What are these added costs called?	11 When individuals or groups try to influence lawmakers to support or oppose specific legislation, what is this activity called?	12 Hotels sometimes offer travelers a lower rate if the reservation cannot be canceled or changed. What type of rate is this?	13 If someone files a lawsuit against another person in a civil case, what do you call the person who started the case?	14 Which term describes the total amount a borrower pays each year for a loan, including interest and fees?
15 When a group of people share one vehicle to travel to work in order to save gas and money, what is this called?	16 A teacher uses a short excerpt from a news video in class for educational purposes. What legal principle allows this?	17 Some foods are labeled with a mark showing they were produced following specific religious dietary rules. What type of label is this?	18 After buying a computer, you fill out a form and send it to the manufacturer, then receive money back later. What is this type of payment called?	19 What system is designed to prevent any one branch of the U.S. government from becoming too powerful?	20 Joshua is buying stamps for thank-you cards and wants ones that will still cover the full cost of mailing a letter even if postage rates increase. What are these stamps called?	21 A landlord enters a tenant's apartment without notice and without an emergency. Which tenant protection is being violated?
22 A judge orders a person to appear in court and testify as part of a legal case. What is this order called?	23 A person refuses to fight in a war because it violates their deeply held moral or religious beliefs. What is this person called?	24 Before being questioned by police, Maria is informed of her rights, including the right to remain silent. What is this advisory called?	25 Offering money or gifts to a government official in exchange for favorable treatment is a crime. What is this crime called?	26 A city plans to take private land to build a public road, and the owner must be compensated for it. What government power is being used?	27 While visiting the nearby Kennedy Space Center, you learn about the federal agency responsible for the U.S. space program. What does the abbreviation NASA stand for?	28 The Constitution divides power among three branches so no single branch becomes too strong. What is this system called?
29 A person accused of a crime says he was at work when it happened, offering proof he could not have committed it. What is this defense called?	30 A product's seller tells customers "It's your responsibility to check for defects before buying." What consumer principle does this reflect?					